

INDIAN AUDIT AND ACCOUNTS DEPARTMENT

OFFICE OF THE ACCOUNTANT GENERAL,
MYSORE, BANGALORE.

Circular dated 3rd January 1957.

To All the Heads of Departments.
Sir,

Subject:—Classification of charges by Treasuries and drawing officers (State) in the merged areas.

No. T.M. 16—56-57. It has been noticed in the course of audit that certain officers of the districts transferred from the former States of Bombay, Hyderabad, Madras and Coorg are continuing to furnish the same classification, as they were furnishing before the reorganisation of States on the bills/challans presented at the Treasuries even after 1st November 1956 in respect of charges/receipts pertaining to the New Mysore State. This procedure is not correct. Since for all the expenditure and receipts relating to the merged areas also provision has been made in the Budget Estimates of the New Mysore State, the classification to be furnished on all the bills and challans should invariably be in accordance with the heads of account appearing in the Budget Estimates of the Mysore State. I would, therefore request you to issue instructions to all the drawing officers in the transferred districts under your control to see that correct classification as indicated above is noted on all bills/challans, etc., presented at the Treasuries. The Treasury Officers have been instructed to return all bills/challans which do not bear correct classification.

Yours faithfully,

Circular dated 31st January 1957.

From The Accountant General, Mysore, Bangalore.
To

All Heads of Departments, (State).
Drawing Officers.

Sir,

Subject:—Miscategorisation in Accounts.

No. 19/T.M.F./56-57. Attention is drawn to the instructions contained in this Office Circular No. I./T.M.F/55-56, dated 22nd September 1955 on the subject mentioned above. Instances of incorrect or incomplete classification of transactions are still being noticed in large numbers in the course of audit. The importance of correct classifications on challans in respect of remittances of moneys into the Treasuries or on the vouchers in support of disbursements is therefore once again emphasised, for, incorrect classification of transactions renders control over expenditure defective and reconciliation between the figures as per Department and those as per this office, more difficult.

2 Some of the more important omissions which are still being noticed during the scrutiny of challans and vouchers are indicated below for facility of ready reference and for taking steps towards their avoidance.

- (i) On the vouchers the correct rubber stamps indicating the correct classification are not affixed.
- (ii) Only the major heads of account are shown in the vouchers instead of detailing the major, minor, sub and detailed heads.
- (iii) In cases where the transactions involve classification to two or more major heads of account, the charges concerned are not correctly apportioned under the Major Heads concerned.
- (iv) When the charge is debitable to several detailed heads, the distribution of charges is not correctly made under these detailed heads.
- (v) On the bills pertaining to the claims of persons transferred from one office to another where the offices do not come under the same major, minor or sub-heads, the distribution of expenditure is not being indicated separately but shown, instead, under the major, minor or sub-head relevant to one of the offices only.
- (vi) Separate bills are not being drawn in respect of claims against the sanctions under Development Schemes, and those under "Normal expenditure" and classification of expenditure is not distinctly furnished in respect of such claims.
- (vii) Classifications in respect of advance of pay or T.A. on transfer are being incorrectly furnished under the service heads instead of under the debt head concerned.

Adequate steps may therefore be taken to ensure that errors in classification are avoided or minimised in noting the classification of transactions.

P. K. SEN,
Accountant-General.
